The Governor Trims His Sails

How He Stands Off Varian, Satisfies the Gov-

Liberal stripe, pledging the signers to vote for no one but a Republican for delegate

It is no longer a rumor but a settled fact, that Governor Thomas "stands pat" with Secretary Seils, in his position-he is too cumping not to know that if he went with the rabid Liberals in their resolution not to vote the Republican ticket this fall—his head wouldn't be worth a week's pur-

It is said that Thomas' views came to THE EARS OF THE LIBERAL LEADERS, who had always had a doubtful eye in his direction. Varian, it is said, was specially wrothy, and sanounced that they would put an end to Thomas' continual "coquetting" with the division Republicans, or know the reason way. So Varian, the report goes, issued orders that Thomas should be elected as a delegate to the Liberal Republican convention. eral-Republican convention, where he would be forced to put himself on record.

Now mark the cunning of the little equette. Some one relishim of Varian's pronunciamento; he foresees the complession that may arise out of the Tatlock-Selis tion that may arrise out of the Tatlock-Sens resolution, and he is seized with sudden dizziness, night swents, ringing in the ears, loss of appstite, moth packess and other alarming signs of a physical breaking up. Dr. Fowler orders the air of the Poteniac, and Mr. Varian wakes up to find that his prey has escaped him.

But thomas is nothing if not a Trimmer, it is his pride that he can trim his sails to suit any kind of breeze from any sort of quarter. White division Republicans—those on the inside—were chuckling at the governor's absence from the convention, and Varian was meditating grim achiemes of verigicance—the gubernatorial mansion on Brigham street.

BLOSSOMS OUT IN PLAGS, buntings and banners in honor of the Liberal Republicans convention day (as per General Order Number One issued by the Liberal Republican committee.) Varian is appeased and the brow of the Division Republican waxes grim again, and the scheme works well. In Washington when interrogated by the guthorities (who will be in full sympathy with Sells) as to what the Liberal Republicans mean by voting down a resolution to uphold a Republican for Coursess, he can candidly say he doesn't know, he was not present at the convention. When Boss Varian reproaches him for not being in his seat he can do as Pattl does—show a doctor's certificate—and "point with prid" to the decoration of the gubernatorial nome

In the ALASKA no vapors are allowed to remain but, by a perfect circulation of air, they are drawn through the flues into the ice chest and condensed there. By thus removing the vapor all odor is removed -for the odor is in the vapor - and Dry, Pure, Cold Air falls in-

The provision chamber of the ALASKA never coats from condensation, but is always clean and free from foul odor.

It is on account of these excellent refrigerating qualities, that the ALASKA has become noted for being entirely free from mould or mildew, or unpleasant odors, regardless of the length of time perishable articles of food may have been kept in it. Aside from the foregoing it has been proven to use only twelve seventeenths as much ice as its nearest competitor in
